Her Majesty afterward kuighted the Mayor, J. T. Soundry. Although the official birthday celebrations in London were postponed until June 3, tall public buildings, many business houses and a great many private resisted ences were descrated. In fact, more flags were flying than at any time since the Queen's Jubilee.

A great congregation assembled in St. Pau's Cathedrain in the morning, where thanksgiving services were held, and hage crowds of people were unable to obtain admittance, and grouped themselves in the spaces about the building.

OHIO & KENTUCKY RAIL-

ROAD.

The prospect is very flattering for the early building of this railroad from Jackson, down the river to Frozen Creek, thence up Frozen and over on Red river, thence across to Caney in Morgan county. Offices for the company have been secured in Lexington, and an engineering corps is again at work, and what Capt. Broas has so faithfully worked for seem certain. A country rich in timber and very fine cannel coal will be developed. The road is to be 35 miles long.

Agents were last week along the line engaging hay and corn for their teams, securing telegraph poles and making contracts for necessary timber used in its construction.

Our city should either have a line from here to the L. & E., as now talked of, or a road from Mc-Causey, in Menefee county, via Hazel Green to Caney. Such a road would be very profitable to our town. An era of prosperity and development has begun. Mt. Sterling should reap a large bene-fit from such a road.

BE CAREFUL.

"In an experience in political contests, covering a period of more than forty years, the editor of The Kentuckian-Citizen can recall no canvass conducted with the Levee. All suspects are corsulted to the spacers abuse the candidates with more vehemence than they have ever denounced the Republicans. Such papers are furnishing political ammunition to the common enemy, in the approaching struggle. It will require a united Democratic party to win the victory in November, and the bitter factional fight in the ranks now going on is giving aid and comfort and encouragement to the opposition."

The desire should be to select for office men who are qualified of good report, of pure record and sound in Democracy.

We publish in this issue a letter from Japan to Mrs. James B. Tip ton, of this city. We have a pur-pose in publishing this letter. There are many ardent christians There are many ardent christans who become weary and discourage ed in their work of love, and it is to encourage just such, that we have the consent of good Mrs. Tipton to make it public, Mrs. Tipton, as many of our readers know, is an invalid confined to her room, all the time suffering, and yet with a mind and heart to do omething for her Master, this letter is evidence of results. Many, however, work all their lives, and from their efforts much may have been accomplished, which has ever been unknown to them. This story may yet come to them as it has to Mrs. Tipton.

As we see it, this county is for Hon. W. J. Stone for Governor of Kentucky. They are for him because he is a Democrat true to every vital principle. They are for him because he is a working Democrat. The convention over, should he be defeated, he would not go about mouthing, but would say the party, in its combined wisdom, has ehosen another, and for that reason I will take the stump and labor for him and my party the same as I would for myself. They are for him because in peace he contends for the principles of his party, using the powers of his brain to convince opposing elements of their error, as in times of war he shouldered the musket and fought for what he believed to be his rights. The people of Mont gomery are for Capt. Stone be cause he is a Democrat on the money question; because he is against trusts and combines and for the people; because he can carry the solid Democratic forces and be elected easily and with the largest Democratic majority.

While we believe we are exact ly correct in these statements, that Senator Goebel has a strong following is no joke. Democrats are for Stone or Goebel, and for one or the other delegates for this county will be instructed, and if Stone is first Goebel will be second, and vice versa.

Senator William Goebel spoke on Saturday to a large crowd at Owingsville. Bath county is very much divided between Stone and Goebel, and only a count on the day of the convention will determine which of these gentlemen is Bath's favorite. Mr. Goebel, as usual, made a strong speech, clearly defining his position on the questions now confronting the people. Unmistakably he is a Democrat after the kind that stand squarely on the platform of '96. He opposes trusts and com-bines of all kinds and every semblance of one, because he is of the opinion that their workings are hurtful to the interests of the masses. Especially is he against that gigantic combine, the book trust, and with the earnestness of his very being does he favor the McChord bill and the Election bill. Everybody knows how Goe bel stands and where to put their finger in order to find him.

WATER WORKS.

A proposition will be submitted to the City Council at their next meeting in June upon which the Council will be asked to offer for sale a twenty-year franchise for water works. The party who will ask for the sale of the fran-chise will be J. M. Pickrell, and the proposition will be to build a water plant within the next twelve months without any contract for hydrant rent. A price will be named and the city can use her pleasure in regard to taking water. Mr. Pickrell will also submit a arr. rickeril will also submit a a schedule water rate, nothing compulsory; it will be with the city as with the citizens.

With their proposition, as we understand it, we can see but one way for the Council to act. If the plant is constructed it will be at Mr. Pickrell's expense, his own money employed, the plant will be his, and we as a city and individuals can take it or let it alone.

Democratic Conference.
Twenty-three States were represented at the conference of members of the Democratic National Committee at St. Louis last Thursday. No action was taken in regard to party policy, and the meeting was mainly devoted to discussing methods of work for the next year. Another meeting will be held at Chicago on July 20. It is expected that at this meeting definite action will be taken and the question of what is to be the rallving cry of the Democracy in the fall of 1899 will be determined. OLD FRANKFORT

Their Homes There in Days Gone By.

Frankfort was proverbial in her early history for her great and illustrious men. Perhaps there is no city in the United States that can boast of as many individuals who have occupied important positions in life as our little city. As far back as the memory can run we can recall the names of individuals whoe reputations are national, and even wordwide. Humphery Marwhall, the progenitor of that prominent family, was a resident of this city for many years, and his remains are burried here, if I mistake not, at "Glen Willis," his old home. John Brown, a distinguished Senstor. lived and died here. John C. Crittenden, whose name and fame is historical, was for many years a citizen of cal, was for many years a citizen of our town, and breathed his last in his our town, and breathed his last in his old residence, on the corner of Main and Washington streets. Monigomery and Francis P. Blair were born here, as I understand, and formerly lived with their father on the corner of Broadway and Washington, where Thomas B. Ford now resides. John C. Breckinridge, one of the most illustrous and distinguished men of his time, studied law here, and for a while practiced his profession in Frankfort. Of all the great same which while practiced his profession in Frankfort. Of all the great men which Kentucky has produced he was the most magnetic and popular. With the form of an Apollo and the face of an Adonis, he held men spellbound by his wonderful eloquence, and was the idol of the people. A gentleman in very sense of the word, Frankfort may well be proud of his connection with its scale helder.

with its early history.

James T. Morehead, a former Gov ernor and United State vanues 1. Morehead, a former Gov-ernor and United States Senator, was formerly a resident of this city, and was noted for his great intelligence and elequence. Men are yet living who recollect Gov. Robert P. man in every sense of the word, warmity attached to his triends, and very generous to his foes. He was a model for young men to imitate.

But of all the grand men that ever resided in Frankfort, in my opinion, Charles S. Morchead was altogether one of the west attractive. One of one of the most attractive. One of the handsomest men I ever saw, courtly and polite to every one, treating the humblest man as if he was the greatest, Charles S. Morehead was pular a man as Kentucky ced. He was a classical schola produced. He was a classical scholar and profund lawyer, a highly culti-vated and intellectual man, and a born leader. THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN.

ake up the White Man's burder Send forth the best ye breed; qo, bind your sons to exile To serve your captives' need; to wait, in heavy harness, the fluttered folk and wild— our new-caught sullen peoples, Half devil and half child.

Take up the White Man's burder In patience to abide; To vail the threat of terror And check the show of pride; By open speech and simple, An hundred times made plain, To seek another's profit And work another's grain.

Take up the White Man's burden
The savage wars of peace—
Fill full the mouth of famile,
And bid the sickness cease;
And when your goal is nearest
(The end for others sought),
Watch sloth and heathen folly
Bring all your hope to nought.

Bring an your nope to nought.
Take up the White Man's burdenNo iron rule of kings.
But toil of serf and sweeper—
The tale of common thingsThe ports ye shall not enter,
The roads ye shall not tread,
Go, make them with your living
And mark them with your lead.

Take up the White Man's burden,
And reap his old reward—
The blame of those ye better
's The hate of those ye guard—
The cry of hosts ye humor
(An, slowly!) foward the light—
"Why brought ye us from bondage
Our loved Egyptian night!"

Take up the White Man's burden
Ye dare not stoop to less—
Nor call too loud on Freedom
To cloke your weariness.
By all ye will or whisper,
By all ye leave or do,
The silent, sullen peoples
Shall weigh your God and you.

Take up the White Man's burden!
Have done with childish days—
the lightly-profiered laure!
Comes now, to earch your manhood
Through all the thankless years,
Cold, edged with dear-bought wisdom,
The judgement of your peers.
Radyard Kipling in February McClure's Magarine.

THE BROWN MAN'S BURDEN.

An address to the United States by a Jingo stripling.

The verses in Labouchere's Truth par odying Kipling's "The White Man's Burden" are as follows:

Pile on the brown man's burden
To gratify your greed;
Go clear away the "niggers,"
Who progress would impede;
Be very stern, for truly
'Tis useless to be mild
With new-caught, sullen peoples,
Half devil and half child.

Pile on the brown man's burden;
And if ye rouse his hate,
Meet his old-fashioned reasons
With Maxims up to date.
With Maxims up to date.
With shells and dumdum bullets
A hundred times make plain
The brown man's loss must ever
Imply the white man's gain.

Imply the winne man's gain.
File on the brown man's burden,
Compel him to be free;
Let all your manifestoes
Reek with philanthropy.
And if with heathen folly
He dares your will dispute,
Then in the name of freedom
Don't hesitate to shoot.

Don't hesitate to shoot.

Ble on the brown man's burden;
And if his cry be sore.
That surely need not irk you—
Ye've driven slaves before.
Seize on his ports and pastures,
Seize on his ports and pastures,
Go make from them your living.
And mark them with his deal.
Pile on the brown man's burden,

A dispatch from Frankfort to the Courter-Journal recently said: For the second time, and with a dif-ferently constituted court, the Court of Appeals has uphed the validity of Section 820 of the Kentucky Statutes, the long and short-hall railroad act. The opinion of the court was deliv-gred in the section S20 of the Kentucky Statutes, the long and short-haul railroad act. The opinion of the court was delivered in the case of the £, & N. Railroad Company against the Commonwealth, appealed from the Marion Circuit Court, and is an affirmation of the judgment of that Court. The opinion was written by Judge Hobson, the new member of the court who succeeded Judge Lewis, who sat at the first hearing of the question. The action grew out of indictments returned in the Marion Circuit Court charging the L. & N. Company with violating Section 820 of the Statutes, which provides that "if any person owning or operating a railroad in this State, shall charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggreat of the transportation of passengers or property of like kind, under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line in the aggredistrator. and conditions, for a shorter than for a longer distance over the same line in the same direction, the shorter being included in the longer distance, such person shall be guilty of misdemeanor and fined." The offense consisted in the appellant transporting coal from Altamont to Louisville at $1 per ton and to Elizabethtown at $1.30 per ton, while it chapted $1.55 per ton from Altamont to Lebanon, an intermediate station on its line. Upon trial of the indictiments the company was fined $300 in one case and $350 in another.

In affirming the lower court's judg-ment Judge Hobson said:

"A railroad is only an improved modern highway. It must of neces-sity be subject to public control like it predecessor, the turapike; for the industry and commerce of the country are dependent upon it. To hold that only railroad men understand rates or that they shall be allowed alone to fix the rates and that no tribunal can review their decision as to what rates fix the rates and that no tribunal can review their decision as to what rates are reasonable, is to put in their hands a sower dangerous to the welfare of a bower dangerous to the welfare of keeping with the doctrine that they are public agencies and so have the right to appropriate to their use the property of the citizen against his consect upon making just compensa-tion. The court decided that the judgment of the Court of Appeals, rendered through Justice Pror in 1805, in favor of the Bank of Kentucky, the Third National Bank, the Louisville Bank of Kentucky, and the Deposit Bank of Frankfort, is binding as resadjudicats in favor of those banks, and that the subsequent change of opinion by the Court of Appeals in 1898, in its opinion by Judge Paynter, could not affect those previous judgments. As to those banks, there can be no taxes assessed except the seventy-five cents on each share of stock under the Hewitt law. This exemption will last until the expiration of the then existing charters of those banks. The Bank of Kentucky's charter lasts until 1909.

Bryan, Champ Clark, of Missoure; O. H. P. Belmont, of New York, and John P. Attgeld, of Illinois.

The chief address was by W. J. Bryan. The burden of his speech was anti-trust. Although he devoted the greater part of his address toothe trusts, he tooched briefly upon the silver question, declaring it was an issue that must be met. The Republicans, being pledged to the gold standard, he said, were opposed to silver because it meant the giving up of the standard which they had adopted. trusts, he touched briefly upon the

There has never been a not campaign that equalled in impance that of the one to be fought init fail. The Republican party, backed by the money power of this country and Europe, is alert and aggressive. Flushed with the victory of two years ago, it will seek by every means in the power to maintain its supremacy. Democrata must be up and doing. They must wage an unceasing war upon their enemies. In no better and more effective way can this be done than by the circulation of good, sound bemocratic newspapers.
